

COMM 7910 Graduate Internship in Communication

APPLICATION FORM

The graduate internship should apply communication theory and research to public or private sector enterprise, with an emphasis on observation and analysis of communication behaviors in workplace contexts.

Note: Internship credit is granted at the discretion of the student's supervising professor.

Student name:
Student's advisor:
Organization where the proposed internship would be completed:
Contact person at the organization (supervisor), including email & phone number:
In roughly 3–5 sentences, please describe the nature of the proposed internship and how the experience would complement your graduate studies. Be sure to focus on the communication-related aspects of the internship.

At the end of the internship, students will complete a short report of 500 words, submitted to the internship coordinator and their degree advisor. That report should discuss and interpret the communication activities you observed and participated in during your internship as they related to your graduate program and your future professional endeavors, drawing on concepts from your communication courses. We also require that your intern supervisor submit a brief letter evaluating your performance. These materials are due on the Friday before Reading Day. If you have questions, please contact the Communication Studies internship coordinator.
